EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Vice President and Mrs. Marshall
Here for a Short Stay.

Weddings Here and Elsewhere—Recent Events—Home-Comings.
Personals—Notes.

The Vice President and Mrs. Marshall are in town today for a short stay, perhaps only another day, or so, but longer as will be necessary to outline their plans for the winter. They are at the New Willard, where they will spend the coming year. They expect to be back here within the next six weeks, and then except, maybe, for brief weeks' end absences, will remain at the capital until Congress adjourns.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Marshall are in splendid health and spirits, after their long vacation rest from official cares and social responsibilities, but are as keen as ever in their intention of taking up the latter when the season is timely. They will resume the reception, etc., which were such a marked pleasure of the first winter of the Wilson administration, and in a hotel where the opportunities can scarcely be restricted on the question of room, etc., they can exceed their previous performances. Because of the White House mourning, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall also refrained last year from offering formal hospitalities.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall went to the Pacific coast last spring. The Vice President representing the President at the opening of the California fair. Later they went to their ranch home in Arizona, and enjoyed a thorough rest, such only as distance from the ordinary travel routes will permit for a public man.

They will spend the interval until returning here at their home in the west. The second assistant secretary of state, Mr. Adde, with his wife, Miss Adde, is spending a few days at Haddon Hall, Atlantic City, N. J.

Miss Annabel Stockman will be her sister's only attendant and Mr. John Graham will act as best man. A small reception will follow, and later Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will leave for their wedding trip. They will reside in Alexandria county on their return.

Church, will include Mrs. J. M. Simmons of Canyon City, Colo., sister of the bride; Mrs. Dean of Salida, Colo.; Mrs. D. C. Dean and Mr. Edwin Dean of Harrisburg, Pa.

The bride will be given away by her father, and Miss Jane Westons will be her only attendant. Mr. Ballard Moore will act as best man. There will be no reception and the newly married couple will leave immediately after the ceremony for their wedding trip. They will make their future home in Baltimore.

A wedding of great interest in Fairfax and Loudoun counties and in Washington took place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Presbyterian Church at Vienna, Va., when Miss Kathleen Vetterli Leith, daughter of Mrs. Richard Dulany Leith, became the bride of Mr. Henry Howard Shackelford of Washington. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Clarence M. Leith of Alexandria, Va., who wore a gown of white crepe meteor trimmed with orange blossoms and a white lace hat and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Clarence M. Leith, who was the matron of honor, wore a gown of rose pink crepe de chine with pink chiffon hat. She carried a bouquet of Killarney roses. Little Miss Phyllis Moore of Washington, a niece of the groom, was flower girl. Her dress was of white or candy over silk and she carried a basket of pink roses. Mr. Howard Moore of Washington, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James M. Nourse of Alexandria. As the guests assembled Miss Dorothy Freeman sang "O Promise Me." The wedding march was played by Miss Evelyn Phillips. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and flowers. Bachelorette Aidson of Sweetnam and Paul Shackelford acted as ushers. A luncheon followed for the relatives and members of the bridal party, and later Mr. and Mrs. Shackelford motored to Washington, to begin their wedding trip. The bridegroom wearing a modish gown of hunter's green broadcloth trimmed with fur and a black hat.

PROTEST ARMSTRONG WILL.

Allege Undue Influence Used in Testament of 1911.

Roscoe E. and Winifred H. Redway have filed in the District Supreme Court a caveat protesting against the probate of an alleged will of William W. Armstrong, dated March 4, 1911. The caveaters are named as beneficiaries under a will of the deceased executed June 3, 1908, and also offered for probate. Attorneys Hochling, Pesile & Ogilby appear for the protestants.

It is alleged in the caveat that the later will was not made voluntarily by Mr. Armstrong, but was procured "through the undue influence of some person or persons unknown to the subscribers." The court is asked to formulate an issue to be tried by a jury as to the validity of the later will. The Redways were given $1,000 and $200, respectively by the former will, but are not mentioned in the later testament.

August Fire Damage, $5,715.

Fire damage in the District of Columbia in August amounted to $5,715, or approximately three-quarters of 1 percent of the total insurance of $748,350 carried on the property. This is shown in the monthly report of the fire department submitted to the Commissioners. But two fires occurred in which the loss exceeded $1,000, and but one of these necessitated the sounding of an additional alarm.
